Unique features of LYC's Hawaiian Noni

Our source of Hawaiian Noni comes from where the plant grows on volcanic ash near the shore of the ocean. This provides the highest and purest concentrations of the essential ingredients that give the plant its magical qualities.

We have added 50 mg. of Grape Seed Extract (Vitis Vinifera) with every ounce of Noni. Grape Seed Extract is known to be the best anti-oxidant to help protect a person from many diseases that are linked to the chemical action of free radicals. Most importantly, it enhances your immune system and cell vitality.

Studies from the National Institute of Aging, John Hopkins University and the American Heart Association have found how anti-oxidants can function within our body's cellular and tissue systems to help your overall health conditions.

Our Hawaiian Noni drink utilizes incredible LIPOSOMES that literally enhance the QUICK and IMMEDIATE absorption of the marvelous nutrients of NONI and the Grape Seed Extract into our bodies. The finished product is completely natural, using no fertilizers, no pesticides, and no artificial contaminants.

What Doctors are saying about Noni

Dr. Stephen R. Schechter, a Naturopathic Doctor, published an article stating: "Numerous studies confirm noni's benefits. Western research into this remarkable plant and its fruit date back at least to 1950 when the scientific journal, Pacific Science, noted that noni fruit showed antibacterial Properties."

After much research with noni and using the product with hundreds of his patients, Dr. Schechter further states that noni can do the following:

- Increases the assimilation and absorption of other nutritional supplements, such as vitamins, minerals and herbs, thereby improving any person's weakened condition.
- Acts as a powerful anti-oxidant and protection from free radical damage.
- Can be used as an anti-inflammatory to help reduce pain, swelling and stiffness, plus migraines and tension headaches.
- Builds your immune system to fight off colds and other infections.
- Restores the body's internal organs to normal functioning, such as your gastrointestinal, reproductive, liver, pancreas and nervous systems.

"Repeated tests by a group of researchers, and documented in the journal Plata Medica, verified noni's reputed health benefits."

Dr. Neil Solomon, a Johns Hopkins-trained physician and New York Times best-selling author states: "After talking to and studying the work of the world's leading noni researchers, and after statistically evaluating the clinical responses of more than 8,000 people who took noni for a variety of health problems, and after reviewing feedback from over 40 physicians and health professionals and several traditional healers, the answer is clear: Noni is indeed a powerful, magical fruit."

"I believe that the more than 140 Ingredients in noni act synergistically as accessory activating factors that bind to different receptors, all of which work in unison to prevent side effects."

Although noni and its health benefiting properties may sound too good to be true, in reality, noni may just be the miracle plant our deteriorating bodies have been craving in modern times."
